Data Protection Act 1998

The integrity of the candidate selection process is reliant on the terms of confidentiality under which comments, views and other information are given by assessors, referees and other persons involved in evaluation during the candidate selection process. You acknowledge that the disclosure of such information even in an anonymised format could lead to identification of particular authors and accordingly agree that the party will be unable to disclose this information to you at any time.

By signing below you acknowledge that you give your express consent to the Party processing, holding, and disclosing the information that you have supplied in accordance with the processing activities described above.

I confirm that the statements made in this application are to the best of my knowledge accurate; and I authorise the Conservative Party to make such further confidential enquiries relating to the application as may be considered necessary (present employer excluded). I accept that the decision of the Candidates' Committee is final and that no appeal will be considered.

As a member of the Approved List or selected candidate I will do nothing to bring the Party into disrepute. Should I fail to maintain the standards the Party requires of me action may be taken against me which may result in removal from the List or my de-selection as a candidate.
